

Dear Readers:

When I was a kid, I had a pony named Ras. He was a bay pony with a mind of his own, and I used to ride him around our farm. One day, I set out for a ride as usual, and before I'd been gone for five minutes, an idea about unicorns popped into my mind.

Because I'm a forgetful sort of person, I turned Ras around, put him back in his paddock and rushed back into the house to write down my idea. I've been writing about unicorns on and off ever since.

Pearl is funny, kind, and clever. She loves her best friends and she'd do anything for them. We all make mistakes sometimes, and Pearl makes lots! Luckily, her friends Olive and Tweet believe in her and that helps Pearl to believe in herself.

I do hope you'll love Pearl as much as I do. She's the kind of friend we'd all like to have, and the kind of friend we'd all like to be.

Sally ♥
