Danielle McDonald studied Graphic Design at university and majored in illustration. She then decided to undertake freelance work and worked with various toy and interior design companies, as well as illustrated books.

Danielle is driven by a passion for colour and a love for creating fun characters. She is the illustrator behind the hugely popular Ella and Olivia series, as well as Ella Diaries, Olivia's Secret Scribbles and various picture books.

These days, Danielle can be found happily illustrating children's books in her studio on a farm in the Southern Tablelands of NSW, where she lives with her gorgeous husband and two beautiful daughters.

REVIEWS

Review for Ella Diaries

"The fantastic layout of each page with its decorative illustrations which replicate the emotions being experienced, are such fun. I can see girls giggling behind their hands as they read these books. I love this series. It's clever, artistic and very girlie."
Susan Whelan, Kids' Book Review
