A rip-roaring graphic novel adventure about the latest in a famous family of vampire-hunting pigs, inspired by legendary monster slayer Van Helsing! Ham Helsing is the descendant of a long line of adventurers and monster hunters—who don't often live to rest on their laurels. Ham has always been the odd pig out, preferring to paint or write poetry instead of inventing dangerous (dumb) new ways to catch dangerous creatures. His brother Chad was the daredevil carrying on the family legacy of leaping before looking, but after his death, it's down to Ham. Reluctantly, he sets out on his first assignment, to hunt a vampire. But Ham soon learns that people aren't always what they seem and that you need a good team around you to help save your bacon!

SALES POINTS:

- Pigs don't fly... but they do hunt vampires!
- The first in a rip-roaring new graphic novel adventure series from award-winning animator Rich Moyer.
- Hilarious story inspired by the legend of monster hunter Abraham Van Helsing.

This is the tale of Mrs Chippy, a tomcat who was a loyal and loved companion to the crew on Ernest Shackleton's 1914 expedition to the Antarctic aboard the Endurance. The cat proved to be a great rat-catcher, and the crew felt he was their lucky charm. The ship's carpenter, Chippy McNeish, is buried in Karori Cemetery in Wellington, and a statue of the cat lies on his grave.

SALES POINTS:

- Susan Brocker is a knowledgeable and experienced writer of animal stories for children.
- Raymond McGrath's quirky illustrations bring something unique to this picture book story.
- A great introduction to historical fiction for children.
- Perfect for the child who loves animals.
- For fans of Friday the Rebel Dog and Bess the Brave War Horse by the same talented duo.

Mrs Chippy, trotting along the ship's railings, was the first to spot the pack ice. It spread out before the Endurance like floating white chunks of a gigantic jigsaw. Penguins and seals watched the ship from the ice floes as they sailed by, and whales and orca popped up to spy on them.

Another great New Zealand yarn in the much-loved Kiwi Corkers range is given a fresh new look in this paperback re-issue.

*Tahi, rua, toru, wha, we bring feathers from afar.
 Our flying fingers weave a cloak, for we are special fairy folk.*

Kahu the cloakmaker has only enough materials left to make one cloak. But that night, as he and his wife sleep, they are visited by patupaiarehe (fairy folk), who make the finest cloak they have ever seen! A lively Kiwi spin on the traditional tale of The Elves and the Shoemaker.

SALES POINTS:

- Formerly published as The Elves and the Cloakmaker, now in paperback with a bright new cover.
- Children love spotting the similarities—and differences—with the original tales.
- Bennett's fun, colourful illustrations bring the story into the modern-day world.
- For fans of all twisted tales.

The Springbok Tour held in New Zealand over 3 months in 1981 remains one of the most divisive periods in New Zealand's recent history. Through his (fictional) diary entries, we learn about 13-year-old Martin Daly's experiences during the tour and his thoughts and feelings about the escalating conflict. His sister, Sarah, is out to stop the tour in protest against South Africa's racist apartheid system. His rugby-mad dad is equally determined that the tour should go ahead. Martin wishes the whole thing would simply go away. But a growing understanding of the issues helps him to stop sitting on the fence and choose a side.

SALES POINTS:

- A new release with a stunning new cover and new title (formerly Sitting on the Fence) to coincide with the 40th anniversary of the ill-fated Springbok Tour.
- Sitting on the Fence was a finalist in the 2008 NZ Children's Book Awards.
- Part of the ever-popular My NZ Story series.
- Bill Nagelkerke deftly draws the reader into the alarming tensions of the time, which threatened to tear families and communities apart.
- Themes include conflict, standing up for what you believe in, racism, relationships and violence.
- Includes a historical endnote and photos of the period.

Scarlett was gifted with beauty. But beauty can be taken in a day, in a single moment, by one car fire. Now permanently disfigured, Scarlett has become a smudge in her perfect world. She can see only one acceptable solution: to escape the modern world for Matilda Mountain, which is desolate, isolated, forlorn. Perfect. But mountains are not always as lonely as they appear. And unexpected friendships can be found in the wilderness. Friendships that challenge her ideas about perfection and her place in the world. Can Scarlett break free from the confines of her beauty-obsessed culture to discover who she is beyond the layers of her skin?

SALES POINTS:

In a big, bustling town lived a girl who loved bugs, from earthworms to ladybirds, woodlice and slugs. While spiders or ants might make some scream in fright to her, creepy crawlies were such a delight!

If there's anything to know about Betsy Buglove, it's that, when she's around, no bug ever has to worry about getting in trouble. Betsy's not afraid of sticky goo, tangled webs, or even muddy boots, no! On her sixth birthday she receives a special gift, a magic magnifying glass that allows her to speak to her fuzzy, sometimes slimy, friends. So get ready, because Betsy's about to get some serious business done.

SALES POINTS:

- With an engaging rhyming text, gorgeous illustrations and a pinch of magic, children will be inspired to imagine they can speak to bugs, too!
- This book encourages children to appreciate the great outdoors.
- A true treat for bug-lovers, leaf through the endpapers to uncover non-fiction facts about Betsy's crawly friends.
